Making a Point

Style Magazine
December 2008

On the evening of October 23, 2008, Turner Development Group hosted the grand opening of its Silo Point Luxury Condominiums project. High overhead, in a duplex unit on the 19th and 20th floors, the STYLE Sky Lounge made its debut as well. A joint project between Turner and STYLE magazine, the 20,000 - square foot luxury lounge boasts several comfortable lounge areas, two fully-equipped kitchens, a media room, dining and meeting space and a spectacular 19th floor terrace that wraps around two sides of the building to offer panoramic views of downtown Baltimore and the Inner Harbor. Partnerships with the Calligaris Shop by Pad in Fells Point and Starr Systems Design in Mount Washington assure that the levels of comfort and luxury in the interior spaces are just as stunning as the commanding views and sleek design of the project itself. Over the course of the coming months, STYLE will use the space for entertaining, and residents of the condominiums will have use as it as well.
